Grayling Township has filed a grant application with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (E.P.A.) for funding of a facilities plan for wastewater treatment works, consisting of sanitary sewers and sewage treatment facilities. Action was taken by the Township Board on Sept. 10, 1974, authorizing this application to be filed. The project, when built, will serve the most heavily developed areas within the Township.

Public hearings to discuss the project will be scheduled to begin within 45 days. The first such hearing will be in conjunction with a joint Township Board and Planning Commission meeting planned for late October to discuss the preliminary engineering report covering the project.

B.J. Fowler, Township Supervisor, has been designated the authorized representative of the Township to work with the E.P.A.

Adult Enrichment Classes to Start

Monday evening, September 23rd will mark the beginning of the Fall Semester of Adult Enrichment Classes offered at the Grayling High School. Complete class descriptions are located on page 8 of this issue of the Avalanche and a complete schedule of classes is displayed in the ad on page 2.

Most enrichment classes have a tuition charge which is designed to cover only the expense of the class. These classes are not credit classes and a minimum of ten people must enroll before a class can be held. Registration for Adult Enrichment classes can be completed at the first class session, however it would be most helpful in planning if everyone who plans to enroll in an enrichment class would call the Community School Office at 348-7641 and put their name on the class list.

Some classes, are being offered this term at a very reduced rate, while others are being offered free. All enrichment classes are free to senior citizens.

Zoning-One Tool to Implement Planning

By Willard Bosserman,
County Extension Director

Zoning seems to be a bad word. People have fought it since it has become necessary and an approved practice. The resistance is the natural fear of change and of someone else putting restrictions on me.

Several townships in Roscommon County will be considering zoning within the next few months. Roscommon Township will have a referendum on their zoning ordinance at the November election.

Denton township is in the process of developing a zoning ordinance. Richfield Township has one nearly completed.

I have attended enough public hearings on zoning to see that zoning is mostly misunderstood. I have seen some of the strongest protestors convince themselves that zoning will protect their property.

Once a person asked, "Why didn't your zoning ordinance stop that junk yard from starting next to my home?" The answer was that the zoning had not yet come into effect. If they had zoning, that wouldn't have happened. She became a believer.

A land use plan implemented by zoning can help prevent "urban sprawl." Perhaps we don't think of little developments springing up all over Roscommon or Crawford Counties as urban sprawl, but they present some extra costs. They lengthen school bus routes. If they are any distance from central sewer systems they can never be served or at great cost if they ever are served.

Some people who are developing land out in the "boonies" think they should be exempt from all the requirements of a subdivision close to centers of populations. "People move up here to be away from urbanization," they say. But as those developments grow, the people who live there put demands upon the township and county for improvements.

The township and county become subsidizers to the developer because they then pay for part of the improvements left out by the developer.

People who have lived here all their lives have a hard time adjusting to the fact that society through its local government should have a voice in land use changes. "I paid for this land and pay taxes on it, nobody is going to tell me what I can use it for, regardless of its affect on my neighbor's property." This attitude may have been alright 50 years ago, but today with more people crowded together, what one person does to his property does have an affect upon his neighbor and the neighbors through it's township or county should have a little to say what is happening next door.

That is really what land use planning and zoning is all about. It gives some guidance to growth so a community can grow without causing incompatible uses to spring up side by side. It helps a residential community to grow without noisy commercial inter-laced within it. A resort commercial doesn't have noisy industrial plants right next to a motel, nor a septic tank business next door to an elite eating place.

There should be a place in the community for each, but not right next to one-another.

You can have it if you plan and implement the plans with zoning.

Shoot Down Bobcats, 36-6

Vikes at Charlevoix Friday

VIKING DEFENSE proved too much for the Houghton Lake Bobcats as they held the visitors to one TD in a 36-6 win.

The Grayling Vikings sailed to their second victory last Friday with an easy 36-6 win over the Houghton Lake Bobcats in a non-conference clash on the local gridiron.

This Friday night all the chips will be down when the Vikes open their conference slate on the road with the formidable Rayders at Charlevoix, a squad that is one of the pre-season picks for the M-HSC crown.

In their second warmup contest before league action with the Bobcats, it appeared that quarterback Mark Hanson would handle the visitors all by himself in the first half as he blocked a punt to set up the Vikes first TD, and then picked up a wild bouncing punt and scampers 60 yards for a TD, to give the local green and white gridders a 14-0 halftime lead.

Cliff Bonamie, the Vikings scabcat, also had a night for himself, scoring 2 touchdowns and 3 two-point conversions. His first TD resulted in a five-yard run following Hanson's blocked punt, then raced 67-yards in the final period for his second 6-pointer.

Listening-Stress Line

For the past 2 years, this area has been serviced by a telephone line to handle calls by persons under stress or who needed someone to talk to during the middle of the night when it is not possible to get through to physicians, pastors, psychologists or friends.

When it was started many persons felt it would not work in a small area because "everyone knows everyone and the information would not be kept confidential." After two years it has been demonstrated that this is not the case. The persons on call have been well-trained and have kept information confidential. They have helped many persons through difficult times when they temporarily needed someone to talk to, someone that would listen.

Approximately 30 persons have taken the 20 to 30 hour course in Empathic Listening and have in turn given many hours of their time listening and counseling.

The original phone number 348-8612 was disconnected on August 13, as funds ran out and it was reassigned to a private individual 10 days later. Between August 23rd and Sept. 13th at least 3 calls came into that number and the person answering was not trained to handle the calls. In the last week several more calls have come in to the temporary numbers 348-8322 and 348-8236. This indicates there is a need for this service in Grayling.

As soon as a phone can be obtained, it will be installed in the home of a trained individual who will transfer the calls to those who are on duty one night a week. Each night, seven days a week, between 10:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m., there will be one youth and one adult on call. A person calling may speak to either of the individuals by dialing the number given to them or by giving their number and having the trained person call them.

Training will be available in the near future by qualified people for those persons who want to continue their training or for those who want to take the course for the first time. Anyone can take the training and then decide whether or not they wish to be on call. The training would be helpful to anyone in dealing with family, friends or strangers.

If you are interested, fill in the attached slip and mail to Listening-Stress Line, P.O. Box 647, Grayling, Michigan 49738 or call the temporary numbers, 348-8322 days and 348-8236 evenings.

territory and pushed across their lone TD on a 3-yard plunge by Tim Riley, with 20 minutes left in the ballgame.

Following the Bobcats TD, the Viking defense took control of the game as they forced the visitors into mistakes.

The first was set up by the pursuit of Jeff Schlaack on a punt to the Bobcats 8-yard line causing the runner to hold up, enabling Art Canfield to hit him and causing a fumble that he recovered on the 3-yard line. Hanson bulled in for the TD, with Bonamie scoring the 2-point conversion.

In the final stanza, Hanson passed for another TD when he hit Craig Hinkle with 35 seconds left in the game. Bonamie tallied the conversion.

The Vikes defense still didn't quit, as Bob Mahaney intercepted a Bobcat pass and ran it back to the 8-yard line as the game ended.

Standouts on defense for the Vikings were Don Volmer, defensive tackle with 6 tackles and 7 assists, Ron Hall had 5 honors and 7 assists and one fumble recovery, and Larry Baynham finished with 4 tackles and 7 assists.

On offense, Bonamie rushed for 171 yards in 21 carries, and had 32 yards on punt returns for a total of 203 yards, and finished with 18 points for the night.

In other non-conference action involving M-HSC teams, Onaway defeated Gaylord, 20-16; Cheboygan downed Oscoda, 28-8; Rogers City took the measure of Alcona, 34-6; Petoskey slipped by Cadillac, 14-8; Benzie Central shook Charlevoix, 14-7; and Roscommon shutout Boyne City, 20-0.

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN — THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1974

A Dark Alternative

The energy shortage has hastened the introduction of nuclear power. It also has stimulated controversy over the safety of nuclear power plants. According to The Wall Street Journal, "A handful of states are considering legislation to outlaw construction of nuclear power plants and one Congressman recently called for a ban on them for up to five years."

The oil shortage and a widespread gasoline famine resolved the Alaska Pipeline dispute in short order. The question now is, will it be necessary to endure an electric power famine before the wrangling over nuclear power plants can be terminated? As far as safety goes, objections to such plants have been carried to an irrational extreme. "The overwhelming consensus of the scientific community," The Wall Street Journal points out, "is that nuclear plants are safe by any relative measurement. But critics have chosen to frame their objections in absolute terms, claiming that any risk at all is intolerable. It is an effective emotional argument, since no one can know the value of a human life. But if those same absolutist standards had been applied to the development of electricity or transportation, mankind literally would still be walking around groping in the darkness."

Development of nuclear technology involves high cost and many problems. Unreasonable fear of the unknown should not be added to those problems. And, as The Wall Street Journal concludes, a moratorium on nuclear power plants, "...would simply retard the rate of future technological progress." Those who are concerned with 100 percent safety should consider the dangers of "...walking around groping in the darkness."

The Promise of Autumn

At the sound of the word, "Autumn," the mind is stirred to many thoughts: the crunch of dry leaves underfoot, the crooked grin of a jack-o-lantern, frosty evenings and youngsters trudging to school, swapping tall tales of summer exploits.

On September 23, Autumn will officially arrive. The golden days of summer fading into the mellow harvest season naturally turn one's thinking to the passage of time and how precious every moment is. Life can be rich and full of meaning for even the poorest man, if he will but use his time wisely. Therefore, with the promise of a new season before us, it is up to each individual to see that he or she is all that they can be. Only in that way will the potential of the people and the United States be fully realized.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

From Calvary Baptist Church

On Ecumenism

We have been tracing the attacks upon Bible Christianity here in America during the present century. Liberalism, Neo-orthodoxy and Neo-evangelicalism have all used forms of Ecumenism as weapons against Fundamentalism or Bible Christianity. To the extent ecumenism has succeeded, Bible Christianity has lost ground. The dangers of present ecumenism are self evident:

1. It clouds the issues and confuses people. When a community sees all of the churches uniting, it is being taught the following things by implication: a) All churches are basically the same; b) All churches are good; c) It is wrong to criticize any church; d) To be sincere is more important than to be right; and e) There are more ways to heaven than one. All of the above statements in a to e are false, yet it is common to hear people say: "All religions are good, we are all trying to get to the same place, and if you do the best you can to live what you believe to be right, you will make it." Ecumenism is sending millions of people to eternal Hell.

2. It ignores all apostasy and heresy in religion. Where ecumenism is stressed there are false religions and false leaders included. Satan has always had more religious leaders and organizations than God. "And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness." II Cor. 11:14, 15.

3. It stresses unity and love above truth and obedience. The answer to spiritual deception and false doctrine according to Ephesians 5:15 is to speak the truth in love and grow up into Christ. You cannot divorce truth from love and have Bible Christianity. Truth is as essential to Love as bone is to muscle in the human body.

4. Ecumenism as it is practiced today is contrary to the Bible. "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with Balaam? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you." II Cor. 6:14-17.

There is a true ecumenism shared universally by all true Christians who have been born again into the family of God. It is not a false organizational unity gained by compromise, but a unity of faith based upon the Bible, ending in a personal relationship with Jesus Christ as an eternal bond.

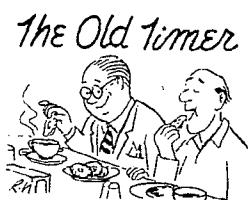

God alone is the author of this unity, and no Satanic force exists which can bring division into the true body of Jesus Christ. The apparent division of fellowship between individuals in the body of Christ today is brought about by those believers who choose the fellowship of apostates and false religious leaders over fellow Christians who remain in obedience to Bible separation.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return for the year 1973
Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. I have $30,000 in group term life insurance coverage which is paid for by my employer. Should the cost of this insurance coverage be included in my income?

A. No. In general, you must include the cost of group term life insurance provided to you by your employer only when the coverage is in excess of $50,000.

Q. In January, I gave my son $2,000 worth of stock as a wedding present. In July, I gave him another $3,000 gift. I know I'll have to file a Federal gift tax return because of these gifts. When is the annual filing deadline?

A. Federal gift tax returns are not filed annually. They are filed quarterly. If total gifts to any one person, when added to all previous gifts to that person during the calendar year, exceed $3,000, a gift tax return must be filed for that quarter and all gifts made during the year must be reported. In your case, a return did not have to be filed for the first quarter since the January gift did not exceed $3,000. However, the July gift raised the total amount of gifts to your son for the year above the $3,000 level, requiring a gift tax return to be filed by November 15 (the due date being 45 days after the close of a quarter). At this time, you must report both the January and July gifts to your son.

For more information, see IRS Publication 448, "A Guide to Federal Estate and Gift Taxation." It's available for 50 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Lansing Report

Representative Ralph Ostling

55 Mile per hour speed limit much talked about.

Since the 55 mile per hour speed limit was imposed earlier this year to conserve gasoline it has been one of the much talked about subjects of the year. Certainly it was most difficult to adjust to driving at this slower rate of speed when most of us were accustomed to traveling at speeds of at least 70.

There has been much criticism leveled at those who exceed the 55 mile per hour limit—and many drivers do. In fact, surveys taken show that the average speed on the freeways in Michigan is between 60 and 65 miles per hour.

The Michigan Legislature adopted the lower speed limit to comply with a federally imposed fuel conservation program. This state along with the other 49 were told it must comply or face the loss of federal highway funds. In Michigan's case the loss would have been about $206 million.

While the lower speed limits were imposed to conserve fuel they have also been cited as being responsible for fewer highway deaths and injuries. A report I recently received from the State Police shows that there was a 24.4 percent reduction in highway deaths, a 21.7 percent reduction in injuries and a 10.3 percent reduction in accidents during the first six months of 1974 as compared with the same period in 1973.

State energy czar William Archer said the sizeable decreases in accident injuries could only be explained by the decreased speed being traveled on Michigan highways, not as a result of the new safety equipment on cars. He also pointed out that gasoline consumption is down eight percent in contrast to recent years when it has increased. Archer also noted that surveys taken by the Department of State Highways and Transportation have indicated that there has been a reduction in average speeds and tourist industry reports have shown increases in volume over last year.

If you really stop and think about it, at 55 miles per hour it only takes a few more minutes to reach your destination and the lower speed does, in fact, save gasoline. But, more importantly, there are fewer people being killed on our highways which is the most important saving we have received from the lower speed limits.

Governor Milliken said recently that he is opposed to raising the speed limit and the Michigan Public Service Commission said it is convinced that the 55 mile per hour limit should be retained.

I know how easy it is to let the car's speedometer creep up to 60 or 70 when we are traveling on the freeways and I know how irritating it is to comply with the law only to have most of the drivers on the road passing you. But statistics have proven that the lower speed limit is one of the best things that could have happened, both in respect to saving fuel and saving lives.

I support the retention of the lower speed limit and I hope all of us will make a conscious effort to slow down.

Christian Science Lecture

"See It Like It Is" is the title of a public lecture on Christian Science to be given in Traverse City on September 26th.

"One of the discoveries we all make is that the truth about anything is rarely what it seems," Miss Nancy E. Houston, C.S., will comment.

A Christian Science lecturer from Urbana, Illinois, she will speak in the Traverse City Senior High Auditorium Thursday at 8 p.m., at the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientists.

John Temple Martin, of Traverse City, will introduce the speaker. Mrs. Thomas Schmidt, Lecture Chairman, is coordinating local arrangements for the event.

In her address, Miss Houston will tell how drug addiction, anemia, and other conditions were healed entirely through spiritual means.

An assistant professor at one time at the University of Illinois, she has long been active in the public practice of Christian Science. She is currently on an extensive tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Criminals should be tunneled

There is a Simple Solution to the complex problem of crime. It was unwittingly discovered in a neighboring county where they built a tunnel which could be the light at the end of the tunnel, if you follow me.

Mother and Aunt Madeline will remember I am always interested in finding Simple Solutions to complex problems. In 1967, for instance, I proposed the perfect solution to the population explosion. It occurred to me after that massive power failure blacked out much of the east coast—9 months after. That's when hospitals noticed unusually big business in their maternity wards. Even Doris Day could figure out what most people like to do in the dark. So there was the Simple Solution to the population problem. Turn on the lights all over the world and leave them on.

Get the idea? Like it? You'll love the tunnel.

It was recently built in Genesee County for $156,450. The tunnel connects the jail to the court house and its purpose is to prevent prisoners from escaping. Some people call it a bridge because it's built several floors above the ground. But I call it a tunnel because it is completely enclosed with not even a peephole through which a crook might sneak one last look at a Coca-Cola billboard. Besides, if I didn't call it a tunnel, I couldn't have made that clever remark about seeing the light at the end of it. It is not easy being a columnist.

The tunnel provides the "maximum security" needed to protect the public from muggers and welfare cheats. "It's a wonder we haven't had an incident in the parking lot as we escort prisoners from the jail to the court house," said Sheriff John O'Brien. "We have been completely exposed to the public."

The only lawbreakers who can be safely exposed to the public are Presidential aides and other lawyers. They are taken to court in open convertibles, slowly moving, so the prisoners can easily explain to TV cameras how they are sorry they sinned and are going to become priests after they serve their sentences—15 days in a Howard Johnson's motel.

The tunnel contains lockers so prisoners can change clothes. There is also an area where they can visit with their families. So here comes the Simple Solution....

All we have to do is make the tunnel longer and add some coin machines that dispense food and Kool-Aid. Whenever an arrest is made, it should be immediately determined if the crook went to law school with the President. If not, he should be nudged through the tunnel entrance with instructions to keep moving until he finds justice.

The delicious gimmick is that the tunnel doesn't really lead to a court house. It doesn't exit anywhere. It is so long no prisoner can live long enough to reach the end. Several times a poor slob might think he sees the light at the end of the tunnel but it turns out to be just another neon sign advertising grain ground exceedingly slow.

And soon, presto! The streets are free of crime. The cheap crooks are all tunneled. If an innocent citizen is slugged, he can crumple secure in the knowledge it wasn't a lousy mugger, it was the CIA.

This Simple Solution is so great I'm surprised no one ever thought of it before.

Richard Milliman

Beebe, Wahls are long shots

Both major parties now have lined up their candidates for the general election in Michigan, and—as usual—this year's campaign promises to be an interesting one.

Both the Republicans under Gov. Bill Milliken and the Democrats under hopeful Sandy Levin have nominated what they think is the strongest slate of candidates anywhere this election year.

Only one party will be right on that score.

Milliken, of course, will be the big gun for the GOP, although the figure of popular President Jerry Ford promises to loom large on Republican horizons. Mr. Nixon's departure from office and Michiganian Ford's ascension hardly can do other than help Republican prospects in November voting, especially in Michigan.

Whether Ford comes to Michigan to campaign or whether he stays away, he will have an impact in Michigan. Personally I expect him to make at least one pre-election foray into Michigan; as an old partisan from way back, how can he stay away?

Sander Levin picked a relative unknown—attorney Paul Brown of Petoskey—to be his running mate for lieutenant governor. Under present Michigan law, the governor and lieutenant governor come as a matched partisan set; you cannot mix-and-match candidates across political lines for the two top jobs. If you pick Levin, you also get Brown, all for the same price.

Paul Brown comes from an old line Democratic family, as the son of former Sen. Prentiss Brown, also of Mackinac Bridge reknown. The Brown family has been identified with the fortunes of northern Michigan for several years. Paul Brown ran statewide once, successfully, for University of Michigan regent.

Brown presents considerable contrast from four years ago when Levin selected as his running mate metropolitan Mayor Ed McNamara, of Livonia; the wide-open north is more appealing this time, apparently.

For top state offices, the Milliken ticket sure has a mixed bag of candidates.

State Rep. James Damman of Troy is out of the Milliken mold—young, family man, moderate-to-progressive, businessman, clean cut, etc. He would make a pea-in-a-pod lieutenant governor for Milliken, if the Milliken-Damman ticket wins in November.

But for secretary of state and attorney general, the similarity to Milliken is a but further removed... which, of course, may not be all bad from an overall political standpoint.

Lorraine Beebe of Dearborn becomes the first woman ever to run for secretary of state as the Republican candidate to challenge incumbent Democrat Richard Austin.

Mrs. Beebe is a former state senator, who was defeated in a run for re-election to that post, and more recently was executive director of the Michigan Consumers Council, until she resigned that job in July. She quit, she said, to run for secretary of state; her departure was not universally mourned either among council members nor among consumer activists. But she ended up as one of Bill Milliken's running mates, and without convention challenge even.

Now her job is a much larger one: to wit, just how does she run effectively for secretary of state against Dick Austin? Mrs. Beebe will be grappling with that task constantly, and it will be one of the interesting—but not very meaningful—aspects of this campaign year to watch from afar the Beebe thrusts and the Austin parries, and vice versa.

And then there's the attorney general's race.

Levin's ticket will have the tried-and-true candidacy of the present attorney general, Frank Kelley, who has been around almost as long as the capitol dome. The list of top Republican candidates who have bit the dust tackling Frank Kelley is long and impressive.

But there hasn't been a Negro running against Kelley, until 1974. The Milliken ticket will include in this slot young, articulate, controversial Myron Wahls, who had to fend off a handful of buckshot thrown by conservative elitists at the Republican convention. Milliken wanted Mike Wahls as his candidate for attorney general, and he got him. So be it.

Wahls will have an easier time mounting an anti-type campaign in his ballot slot. He is already attacking Kelley as a political phoney, who operates with publicity rather than substance. I have a feeling Wahls will have to do a bit better than that to make any sort of lasting impression on the electorate.

Kelley for his part will probably ignore opponent Wahls. Already he has taken on President Ford in his opening campaign salvos, and he will be more likely to focus any attacks on Milliken than on Wahls.

So that's the major party lineup for the November election: Levin-Brown, Kelley and Austin for the Democrats.

Milliken-Damman, Wahls and Beebe for the Republicans.

The Republicans, it seems to me, face an uphill fight. As Levin says, Democrats smell the roses.

Milliken-Damman may make it, but Beebe and Wahls are straight long shots.

Once it

Courting

Amy and George are going together.

Don't ask George if he's courting Amy. He wouldn't know what you're talking about. Nobody courts any more. They go together.

And there are significant differences. A couple of kids going together do not necessarily have marriage as their objective. They just may have found that afternoons like this one are more delightful when you're with someone you like.

The vital prerequisite for going together is to have a sense of values, a set of standards, that will help you make and keep this a wholesome relationship. Religious education, the moral and spiritual principles fostered by our churches—these are the keys to meaningful relationships throughout life.

Save money this winter.

Cut your heating costs up to 17% with our official insulation program.

Last fall, at the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, Michigan Consolidated introduced a low-cost home ceiling insulation program designed to conserve Natural Gas and cut heating costs up to 17%.

How successful has the program been? Well, in the past 10 months, more than 37,700 homeowners have installed ceiling insulation and, as a result, over one billion cubic feet of Natural Gas per year is being conserved. That's enough to heat over 6,500 additional homes this winter. And, that's why we're continuing our insulation program again this fall. Because now is the time to insulate and save.

The heart of our program is simply this: Install six inches of ceiling insulation in your home. It's a quick, easy and inexpensive project that most homeowners can accomplish by themselves for about $100.

How can you get the job done? First, you can do it yourself, and we'll gladly provide a free handbook that tells you how. Secondly, you can have it done by an insulation contractor and, if you wish, we will provide you with a list of qualified firms. Or, third, we can have the job done for you through one of our participating subcontractors. The cost is often under $200 for homes with less than 1,000 square feet of ceiling area.

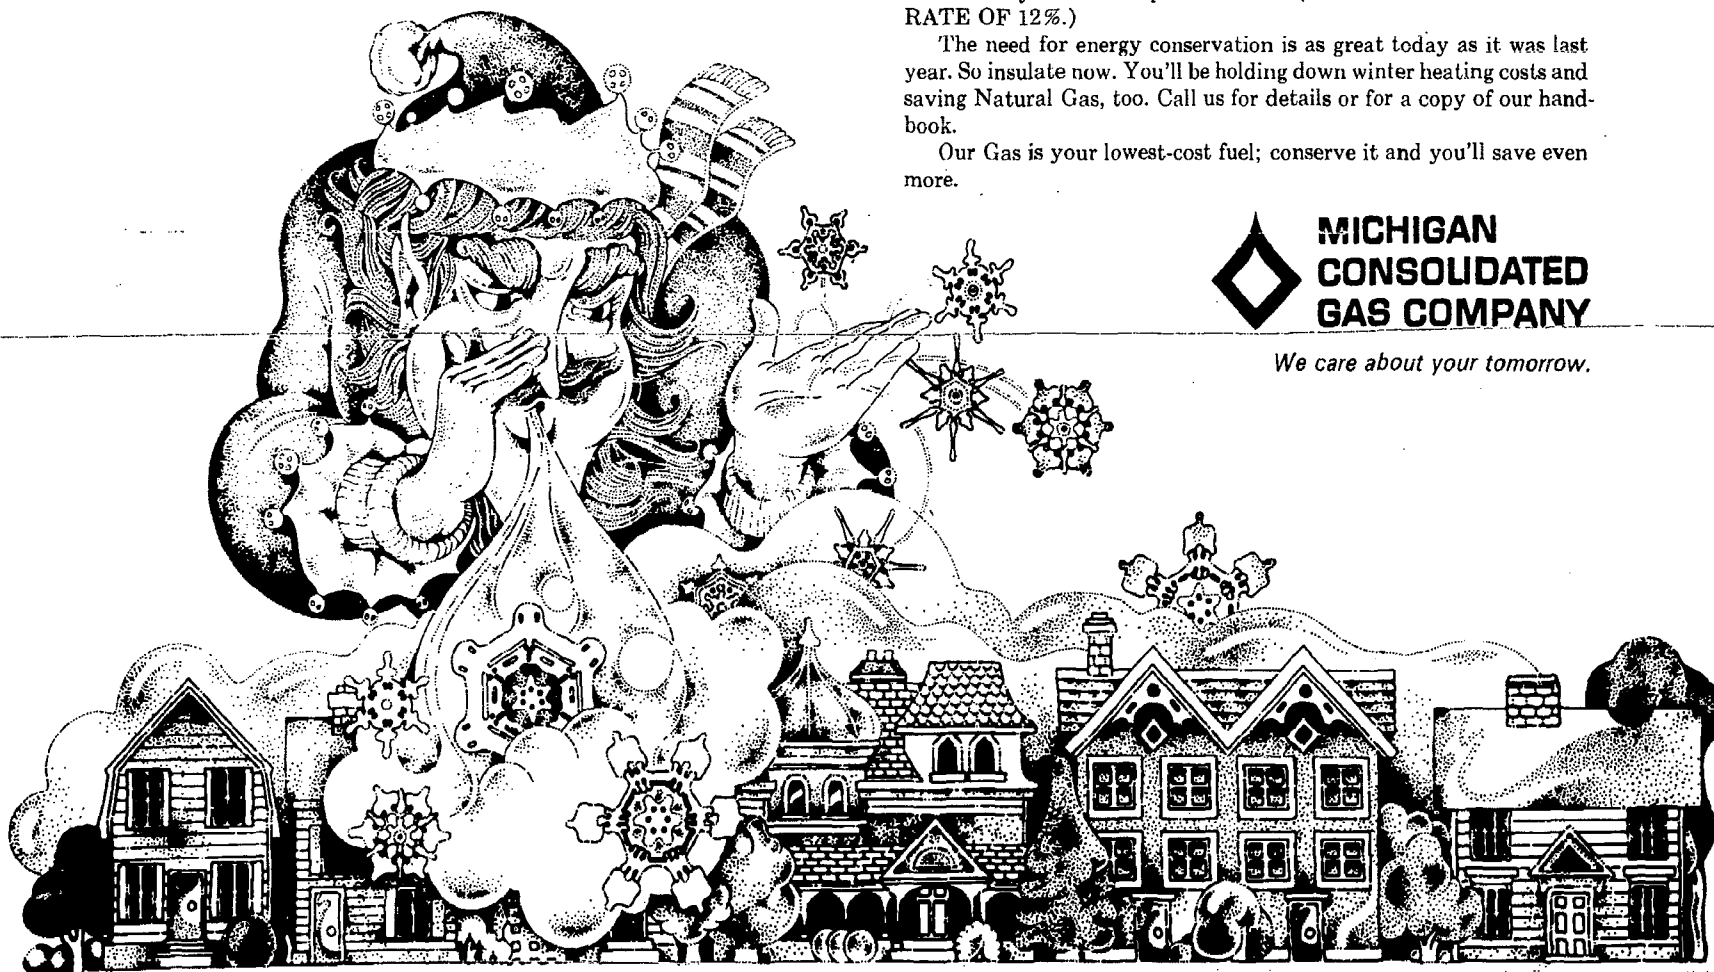

If you want the job done through one of our participating subcontractors, we have a payment plan to suit every budget. You can pay cash. Or, you can pay over an extended period at an interest rate of 1% monthly on the unpaid balance. (ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE OF 12%.)

The need for energy conservation is as great today as it was last year. So insulate now. You'll be holding down winter heating costs and saving Natural Gas, too. Call us for details or for a copy of our handbook.

Our Gas is your lowest-cost fuel; conserve it and you'll save even more.

We care about your tomorrow.

Provided further, that the same does not violate the provisions of any zoning ordinance within said Township of Grayling.

(c) In the event the foregoing regulations create any special or peculiar hardship beyond the control of a particular violator thereof because of unforeseen circumstances, the Zoning Administrator is hereby given the authority to grant permission to an applicant to operate contrary to the provisions hereof for a limited period; not to exceed two (2) weeks; provided, no adjoining property owner or occupant is unreasonably or adversely affected thereby, and the spirit and purpose of this Ordinance are still substantially observed.

ON DISPLAY—The showing of the 1975 Cadillac's will be held at Scheer Motors, Inc., on old 27 North, Grayling, across from the airport, Thursday, Sept. 19th.

As on all 1975 Cadillacs, the Sedan de Ville (upper) is highlighted by a redesigned front end and a new fixed rear quarter window which is also featured on the Calais Sedans. All 1975 Cadillac models incorporate valuable fuel economy oriented engineering advancements as standard equipment, such as a lower ratio economy axle, several engine refinements, GM specification steel belted radial tires, and an "economy" setting for the Climate Control unit.

The 1975 Cadillac Fleetwood Sixty Special Brougham (lower) retains the distinctive Fleetwood Brougham design and decor. The elegance of the Brougham is enhanced by the wider white wall design steel belted radial tires.

your week ahead by DR. A.W. DAVIS

Forecast Period: September 22 to September 28

ARIES Mar. 21 - Apr. 19	You should have small difficulty in seeing that members of the other sex aren't as "advertised." In other words, take care! You might misread a friendly gesture.
TAURUS Apr. 20 - May 20	Good things are scheduled to happen to most members of your sign. These "good things" will be hidden, rather than apparent. However, look for a productive week!
GEMINI May 21 - June 20	Once again, the more light in your eyes—the blinder you become. You face a week of empty promises. So, don't commit your feelings too easily.
MOONCHILD June 21 - July 22	Delegating responsibility, at this time, is not one of your strong points. Try to lighten your workload—you'll have too many irons on the fire.
LEO July 23 - Aug. 22	Avoid an emotional explosion. Remember, your temper can get you into trouble and your pride will keep you there. You're prone to heap wrong upon wrong.
VIRGO Aug. 23 - Sept. 22	A little bit of money might get you into a lot of trouble. How? A down payment, for example, or a promise—could parlay into a long term debt.
LIBRA Sept. 23 - Oct. 22	We are never treacherous, that is, according to our own light. Nonetheless, you are inclined to manipulate people—who incidentally, won't fit into your design of things.
SCORPIO Oct. 23 - Nov. 21	Hold your ground against outside pressures. Don't let anyone, including a superior, push you into a hasty decision. Also, overlook provocations that come from the other sex.
SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22 - Dec. 21	You're highly susceptible to being persuaded by a rather, shifty associate. Try to check the motives behind the advice you're receiving, this week.
CAPRICORN Dec. 22 - Jan. 19	Many under your sign are prone to exchange secrets, during this week's cosmic cycle. Remember, what you disclose could trick open "warfare" among your associates.
AQUARIUS Jan. 20 - Feb. 18	Spending money and speculating, believe it or not, are recommended to bolster your spirits. It seems as though you'll need relief from "budget" pressures.
PISCES Feb. 19 - Mar. 20	You will undergo a high degree of emotional sensitivity. Avoid the urge to provoke your mate or similar alliance; don't put associates to the test.

Viking JV's Win Second Gridiron Tilt

Last Thursday evening the Grayling JV football squad defeated Houghton Lake, 14-0 in a rain soaked contest that saw Grayling take its second straight gridiron tilt.

After a scoreless first half, the Vikings in a determined effort, marched toward their first score in the 3rd quarter with Will Roach going the last 9 yards for the six points. The two point conversion failed and the score remained 6-0 as the 4th quarter got under way.

Another sustained drive by Grayling was capped by a 4 yard T.D. burst, again by Will Roach. The two point conversion pass from quarterback Allen Johnson to end Bill Dean was good, to finish out the evening.

The defensive unit, led by Bill Dean, John Slater, Doug Sajdak, Mike Shelby and Mike Money, recorded their second consecutive shutout.

The Viking Sophomores open their league schedule against Charlevoix at home tonight (Thursday) at 6:30 p.m. under the direction of coach Chuck Mires and assistant Larry Schlaack.

I guess the question most often asked of me is, "How do you write a column? I wish I could do it." It's really easy, and there are only a few rules to follow: be brief, don't repeat yourself, don't ramble, don't exceed your allotted space and get it in on time. (Editors have no appreciation of the problems of creativity and are as cold hearted as dead fish). Spelling is important, but not if you are fortunate enough to have an editor and a girl on the composing machine who will correct errors. And I am fortunate. Once you have mastered the basic rules above, just sit down and write whatever is on your mind — things you have heard downtown, small things which have happened during the week and your reaction to them, or just what bugs or pleases you. We all do the same thing verbally every day, all day. So it is no great trick to do it in writing. Try it sometime. You will amaze yourself. A column is not a high school composition, thank God. And the trouble with most people who feel they can't write is a built-in fear of being given a grade on their work. My work would never pass. It is ungrammatical, weirdly punctuated and consists of a great many sentences which are not sentences. Like this.

JP.
As I say, write what comes to mind, and for the last three minutes I just sat here listening to the typewriter hum its electrical circuits in anticipation of great and mighty thoughts. Only none have come. Last night in bed I had several. But a good night's sleep drove them from my mind. That, plus a wrestling match with a couple of blankets which wanted to spend the night on the floor. I wish that I could devise some way to make a bed with me in it as well as I do with me out of it. That or find some sweet young thing to tuck me in every night. And I don't mean "My Mommy" either.

JP.
The other day I was on the South Branch and stopped at the Chapel. A crew of young people were busy cleaning and raking. They were from one of the camps in the area and had a camp guard and a DNR Forestry man with them. They did a fantastic job, and I told the man from the DNR that in the past two years I had never seen that place, or any State Park, as well kept up. A lot of people knock the DNR, but few ever note the many fine things the Department does. And it does a bunch of them. The South Branch Chapel is just one small example.

JP.
Matters of Undying Importance: The world's largest manufacturer of zippers is in Japan. In 1973 the company did an annual business of $475 Million and made 500,200 MILES of zippers. That, according to Time Magazine, is enough to stretch to the moon and back. I wonder what it would sound like if every zipper were to be zipped at the same time. The sound shock waves might even equal the moral shock waves.

JP.
I have decided, from the depths of compassion, to grant a conditional amnesty to friends Del Case and Sal Truettner. Not a full pardon, by any means, only conditional Amnesty. Just work their ways back into my good graces and all is forgiven.

JP.
You see, anyone can write a full column about almost nothing. It was just proven by.....

Frederic Township Board of Supervisors
Frederic, Michigan 49733

Gentlemen:

On September 10th one of our employees, Gene Case of Grayling, was injured on a fall from a utility pole in the Frederic area. One of the first comments Mr. Case made to me when I visited him in the Grayling Mercy Hospital was in regard to the quick service and excellent treatment he received from the Frederic Township ambulance service.

Too often we take public service such as this for granted. Al Leng, Dean Welch and the Frederic volunteer fire department are to be commended for their dedication and efficiency. The Board of Supervisors and the residents of Frederic Township must also be complimented in making such services available. Please accept the thanks of the Board of Directors and the employees of the Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company for this first and very important step toward Gene's recovery from his injuries.

Sincerely,
Roger Westenbroek
General Manager

Dear Editor,

I am wondering if the article each week by Rev. Barnett called, "The Bible Speaks," is printed free or if it is a paid advertisement, because I feel it neither qualifies as a public service announcement or as factual news. I don't know why Rev. Barnett does not just come right out and say that he feels unless you are a Baptist and attend IHS church that you cannot have salvation, the gift of eternal life or even the peace and joy that the Bible promises to each person who believes.

I'm sure I read the same Bible as he and mine says, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son that whosoever believes in Him should not perish, but have eternal life." John 3:16. Now that does not say that I have to agree with EVERY other person on ALL other phases of theology, nor does it say that I have to be a Baptist, just "BELIEVE IN JESUS."

He also states in his recent article that, "the test of fellowship is no longer what you believe about the Bible, but is a religious experience, people claim to have from the Holy Spirit."

Rev. Barnett, my Bible speaks many times of the work of the Holy Spirit and Jesus commanded the disciples after His resurrection to wait for the Holy Spirit before they began their ministry. If you would read ALL of your Bible with an OPEN-mind and not judge those around you and spend so much time arguing, you would have more time to do the work of the Lord, which is winning souls to Christ. Your recent article would not win anyone to the Lord.

I just pray that you won't take it too hard when you get to Heaven and find some Lutheran, Methodist, Free Methodist, Assembly of God, Episcopal, and Catholic Christians among those that accepted Jesus as their personal Saviour and received the Gift of Eternal Life.

An evangelical, pentecostal, born again Christian
P.S. It was interesting that after Jack Pine blasted the Oral Roberts show that he asked for prayers for Jack Millikin. We Christians have been praying for Jack, would the praise go to God if he was healed?

They now read: World War II, December 7, 1941 to December 31, 1946; Korean Conflict, June 25, 1950 to January 31, 1955; Vietnam, August 5, 1964 to August 15, 1973. He also said that the Legion is working for 300,000 new members.

A short business meeting was held by the Legion and Auxiliary. Mrs. Richard Gage (Myrtle) of St. Helen, Unit #416, gave her report on the National Convention in Miami, Florida. The budget for the coming year was given by Mrs. Daniel Baker (Florence), of Bay City Unit #18. This being the start of a new year for National, Department and District officers, there were very few reports.

Following the meetings, a very delicious Swiss Steak dinner was served by the Bay City Auxiliary Unit. Dancing followed.

Those attending from Grayling Post #106 and Auxiliary were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moore, Mrs. Eleanor Filley and Mrs. Clarence Tetting.

The next meeting will be in Grayling on November 2, 1974. Dinner at 2 p.m.; the meeting to follow.

The Post has announced that the bar will be closed during the meeting. If you wish to be admitted for the purpose of attending the meeting, show the Sgt-at-Arms at the door your paid up membership card.
